Ghostly goings on delay expansion?

REPORTER

RACHAEL BURFORD
rachael.burford@
london.newsquest.co.uk

Are the ghosts of Quakers' past or ancient Roman curses to blame for the delayed expansion of Kingston town centre's Primark store?

The budget clothes chain has owned the former Quaker meeting house, pictured, and cemetery in Eden Street since 2012 and had planned to almost double the size of its store with an extension.

But building work never began despite planning permission being agreed three years ago.

As well as the Quaker burial ground that dates back to the 1700s, a human skull from 1000BC, a small Roman altar and a number of curses written on strips of lead have all been found at the site previously.

Chairman of the Quaker project committee Graham

Torr said he thought all the bodies had been moved to Surbiton cemetery in 2010 when the group was transferring to its new base in Fairfield East.

Quakers are known for their plain dress and opposition to slavery and there is now speculation that more Quaker bodies have been found at the former cemetery. Mr Torr said: "I have no idea why they haven't expanded yet."

"It is very confusing."

"We went through the process of exhuming the remains very thoroughly and tried our best to inform all living relatives."

"Quakers are very good at keeping records, but there was one body that we could not find."

Mystery surrounding the postponement was further emphasised when a Primark spokeswoman would only say "factors" were to blame, and the company, which made £2.3bn in profits in the first quarter of last year, would expand the store "early next year".

She added: "The store expansion was set to start earlier, however, a number of factors led to a change in timing."

"Primark will not be commenting further on this expansion."

Tough guys: The wrestlers looking for new recruits

Deadlinepix KT94710

Getting to grips with new line of work

Teachers from Kingston's latest school were out in force looking for exceptionally tough potential pupils. Al Snow's Wrestling Academy, run by a slew of some of the world's biggest entertainment wrestlers, will open at the end of March. Snow and his teachers were at the Square Olive in Hampton Court to welcome potential apprentices and the school's sponsors, which include the Kingston Guardian.

New year conversations

A third set of Kingston Conversation talks are taking place in the new year.

The four new workshops will focus on the borough's budget.

Council leader Kevin Davis will be leading the talks on January 19 and January 26 between 7pm to 9pm, and on January 30 between 10am and noon. A fourth workshop for the business community will be held on February 2 from 7pm to 9pm.

A venue has not been chosen.

Confirm your attendance at goo.gl/1bZ92Q by Monday, January 4.

No rebate

Eighteen to 21-year-olds will no longer be eligible for a reduction in their council tax next year. Kingston Council approved a proposal to change the tax reduction scheme to exclude 18 to 21 year olds - unless they are care workers - at a meeting on December 15.

Special KINGSTON GUARDIAN Reader Offer

Breakthrough relief for back pain and sciatica

Sam Potter

IF YOU suffer from low back pain and sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this often crippling spinal condition.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain through the buttocks and down the legs are all symptoms of a pinched nerves often called "sciatica".

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting, numbness and constant tingling down to the tip of the toes. Left untreated, the intense pain can rapidly wear you down and drain the joy out of life.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals. With success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery.

In East Molesey, you can try Non-Surgical Re-constructive Spinal Care at the Halsa Family Centre of Wellness - the offices of low back pain and sciatica relief experts from Halsa.

The Halsa team of fully trained spinal care specialists have helped over 200,000 patients find relief from their agonising back pain and sciatica.

According to director Ryan, "We use a combination of advanced technology and specific examination techniques, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your low back pain and sciatica; and a unique programme for reconstructing the damaged area causing the pain; this means superior long-term results for most people."

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report an almost immediate relief from their pain.

Patient Jeff P. from London says, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg."

I couldn't work or do anything useful and the drugs my GP prescribed hardly did anything.

My wife insisted I respond to one of these ads, I thought it would be a total waste of time, but I'm so glad she kept on at me.

Thank god I called your number, I'm 95% better in just a couple of weeks."

Your invitation for a comprehensive consultation and examination to pinpoint the cause of your low back pain and sciatica...

'FOOT SOLUTIONS GOT ME BACK ON MY FEET'

Although officially retired as a Consultant Maxillofacial Prosthetist, Colin Haylock MBE still travels the world using his specialist life-changing skills to help rebuild people's faces.

"I was really struggling," explains Colin, currently an honorary tutor at Guys Medical School. "Following the accident, my movement became painful and awkward and I had to drag my left foot sideways. The problem was accentuated during my travels when I was on my feet a lot of the time."

At first, Colin sought help from the usual channels, visiting casualty, a physiotherapist and even an orthoptist who prescribed rigid (and uncomfortable) half-sole inserts.

Unfortunately, nothing worked. Then Colin decided to visit Foot Solutions in Richmond.

"I'd been aware of the Foot Solutions free foot assessment offer for some time," adds Colin "then one Sunday morning I called in to the store. I'm so glad I did because that visit changed my life for the better."

Colin was seen by a Foot Solutions consultant who, after taking a full case history, performed a series of tests and scans which identified in addition to the injury, a fallen arch which was exacerbating the problem.

"The consultant was extremely patient and thorough," continues Colin, "he recommended custom-made arch supports and advised on suitable footwear, but applied no sales pressure."

Colin accepted the recommendations and followed his detailed instructions on how to use the arch supports.

"I can now walk normally with virtually no discomfort," says a delighted Colin, "Foot Solutions is a very good product and I am happy to endorse it."

Conditions of acceptance of advertisements

General

1. The following conditions apply to the placing of an order for insertion of advertisements in Newsquest Media Group ("Newsquest") printed or electronic publications. Each order will form a separate agreement and English law will apply. Any change to these conditions must be agreed by us in writing (which means by exchange of letter, fax or email). An "advertiser" means any person or organisation placing an advertisement on their own account or on behalf of another.

Contents

2. The advertiser confirms that the advertisement complies with all applicable legislation, regulations and codes of practice, including the codes supervised by the Advertising Standards Authority. We may reject or require changes to any advertisement so as to comply with legal or moral obligations placed on us or the advertiser; to avoid infringing the rights of a third party or any relevant code of practice; or to meet our published production and quality specifications.
3. The advertiser further confirms that:
 - i) the publication of the advertisement will not breach any contract, infringe the copyright, trademark or other right of any third party and is not libelous of any person;
 - ii) all licences and consents from third parties necessary for the publication of the advertisement have been obtained and paid for, including consent from living persons identified in copy or pictures (photographic or otherwise);
 - iii) in respect of an investment advertisement, the contents have been approved by, or the advertiser is, and authorised person within the meaning of the Financial Services Act 1986 as amended or the advertisement is otherwise permitted under that Act.

Payment

4. All advertisements must be paid for in full at the time of booking unless credit has been agreed. The price shall be the amount fixed by our published rate card on the date of acceptance of the order plus VAT where applicable. For non-credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of an advertisement that has not been paid for on time. For credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of any future advertisements if payment is not made in accordance with our payment terms. For credit advertisers, interest will be charged on late payments at the rate of 3% above the Bank of England's base lending rate from the date payment is due together with the administration costs of collecting an overdue debt.

5. By placing an order with us, an advertising agency confirms that it contracts as principal with full authority from its client in all matters connected with the order and is responsible for all payments due. We will only accept advertisements from advertising agencies if they are recognised by us.

6. We will try to give notice of increases, but we reserve the right to change our advertising rates at any time. This will not affect contracts, including any fixed term agreement for a series of advertisements.

Box numbers

7. We will use reasonable efforts to forward replies to box numbers within a reasonable time, but we are not responsible for any failure or delay caused by circumstances beyond our reasonable control, or for any losses relating to an advertiser's business or any loss that is not reasonably foreseeable by both parties.

Cancellation

8. We will notify the advertiser of the latest time that orders can be cancelled (the "booking" deadline) and the latest time that advertising copy can be received by us ("the copy deadline"). An advertiser may cancel up until copy deadline and we will make reasonable efforts to re-sell the space, but the advertiser will be liable for the full price if the space is not sold and we will reclaim any unearned volume-based discount. Private advertisers booking by telephone or online may cancel in accordance with relevant law, but no refund shall be available after the copy deadline unless cancellation is due to our negligence. If the copy is not received by the copy deadline, we will not be liable if the advertisement does not appear, but the advertiser will remain liable to make full payment for the price of the advertisement.

9. We will try to satisfy an advertiser's request regarding the positioning of an advertisement, but no guarantee of position can be given unless agreed by us and paid for at the rate then current.

Errors

10. We are not liable for any error, misprint or non-appearance of an advertisement unless caused by our negligence, in which case the advertiser will be entitled to a re-insertion or proportionate refund. The advertiser is solely responsible for checking the advertisement on each insertion and ordering correction where necessary. Except where we have been negligent, we shall not be liable for an error or misprint that, in our reasonable opinion, does not materially detract from the advertisement. We shall not be liable in any case for losses relating to any business or public fund-raising for the advertiser, such as lost customers, revenue or profit.

Copyright

11. Advertisements are accepted on condition that we have the right to publish them online as well as in any booked titles. The copyright in work or material we contribute to or re-work for an advertisement belongs to us. We will dispose of advertiser's copy, artwork, photographs or other materials after six months unless collected.

General

12. We shall not be liable if our publishing activities are restricted or prevented by any law, act or event beyond our reasonable control (including, for example, industrial dispute). In such case, the advertiser shall accept publication when available or otherwise may cancel the order by written notice and pay only for work done and materials used.
13. We will use the advertiser's details for internal administration. Unless the advertiser tells us not to in writing at any time, we may also share details with other Newsquest companies or with carefully selected third parties, who may send information about goods and services.
14. The advertiser will be liable to pay us for all costs, losses, expenses and damages of any kind suffered or incurred by us as a result of legal claims or actions, actual or threatened, arising from the advertiser's breach of these conditions or the publications of the advertisement, unless caused by our own negligent act or failure.
15. We may cancel the order at any time if the advertiser breaches these conditions and the breach is not capable of remedy or it continues for seven days after we have given written notice of it, or if we reasonably believe the advertiser is unable to pay debts or the advertiser goes or threatens to go out of business.

Method of payment

We will be pleased to accept your payment by any of the following methods: • CHEQUE - Made payable to NEWSQUEST (LONDON) LTD. • BACS - Electronic Bank Transfer • CASH - Paid to one of our Branch Offices. • CREDIT/DEBIT CARD - Please phone to pay by Visa/Mastercard/Switch/Delta

Property deals and deaths, Tolworth plans and town centre joyrides all made the headlines at the start of 2015

Not suitable: Kingstons House in Coombe Road was deemed not fit for a new school

KT86380

January

□ Premier League giants Chelsea were set to buy Kingsmeadow football stadium from AFC Wimbledon, it was announced.

This would follow a bid by the Dons to build a new ground in Merton's Plough Lane.

□ The man who raped a Chessington pensioner was one of 11 men to die while in custody in Wandsworth Prison in 2014.

Robert Richards, 22, left a note in his cell referring to "debts" he had inherited from a former cell mate.

At the pre-inquest hearing into the deaths of two prisoners coroner Dr Fiona Wilcox raised concerns about the number of deaths.

□ A 16-year-old admitted taking his mother's Mercedes and driving the wrong way round Kingston town centre's one-way system during a high-speed police chase.

His parents came with him to the hearing at Wimbledon Youth Court, where he pleaded guilty to aggravated vehicle taking and dangerous driving.

He told police after they finally stopped the driver, he had failed to stop as he did not have insurance.

□ Children signed up to a new free school in Kingston were to spend at least one year in temporary accommodation after the five-storey office block the school was due to open in was deemed not fit for purpose.

Kingston Community School, run by Christian group Chapel St, was due to open in Kingstons House in Coombe Road in September, but was forced to delay its permanent plans.

□ The Mayor of London suggested the A3 at Tolworth could be moved underground.

Boris Johnson said this would free up land for development and improve the environment at one of the borough's most polluted hotspots.

A proposed concept drawing showed the tunnel would go from the roundabout at Tolworth Tower to beyond

Princes Avenue to the west.

□ The husband of a New Malden woman who was found dead at her home was charged with her murder.

Police found Linda Mills, in her 60s, dead in the house the couple shared in Stanley Avenue.

Her husband, Raymond, was seen wheeled out of the house with blood on his head.

A neighbour had described Mr Mills as "a bit depressive".

□ The company in charge of Kingston and Richmond's children's services sparked a cross-borough child abduction scare after accidentally reporting its own staff members to police.

Achieving for Children told schools to be aware of a man claiming to be from the council asking schoolchildren to get into his van to discuss youth activities.

Witnesses said he was wearing a lanyard that looked "homemade".

It turned out the individuals were council-sanctioned workers on official business.

□ Tesco submitted new plans for more than 700 homes at its Tolworth Toby Jug site.

The homes tally was smaller than the original 805 proposed previously.

The new build would be 18 storeys high with the development including a 262sqm convenience store plus cafe, leisure facilities and the extension of the 281 bus route.

□ It was a week of tragedy in the borough as three people died.

Homeless man Colin Edwards died from severe burns in New Malden, a man in his 30s plunged to his death from an A3 bridge and Stephen Law, from Mitcham, spent days in a critical condition and died after a crash in New Malden in the week beginning March 9.

Elsewhere in the borough a man was stabbed and survived and six people were arrested and a gun seized during a fight in Chessington.

□ A Kingston University student was killed in a crash with a BMW saloon and a bus while on her way to hand in her final piece of coursework.

Hina Shamim, 21, died at the side of Penrhyn Road on the night of Tuesday, March 31.

Friends and family described her as a bubbly, kind and amazing person.

□ The Kingston Hospital doctor who knocked over Surrey Comet features editor June Sampson leaving her fighting for her life and unable to work since was given three points on his licence.

Andrew Breeze, 40, from West Yorkshire was found guilty of driving without due care and attention following a one-day trial.

Her daughter Anna Dowler said: "Because my mother did not die that night, her injuries, as the law stands, were of no more account than if she'd been a damaged lamp post."

□ Social workers who missed crucial opportunities to potentially save a mother murdered by her boyfriend were found to have never been disciplined and may still be working in the profession.

Charito Cruz was hammered to death by her boyfriend Asad Niazi in front of her two-year-old daughter in Cambridge Road, Kingston in 2011.

We asked where the social workers in charge of her case were now.

The Health and Care Professions Council said to date no action had been taken against anyone involved in the case, despite a report revealing numerous failings by social workers.

May

□ Conservative James Berry defeated Liberal Democrat Ed Davey to become Kingston and Surbiton's new MP.

Mr Berry gained some 2,800 votes more than the incumbent, who had occupied the seat since 1997.

Davey was one of a number of high-profile Liberal Democrats to lose their seats, including Vince Cable in nearby Twickenham.

□ A police officer on his way to work saved a young woman from drowning after deciding to leave home 10 minutes earlier than usual.

Sergeant Steve Rees, 50, was cycling to his morning shift just before 6am on Saturday when something caught his eye on Kingston Bridge.

Minutes later he was rescuing a woman in her 20s who had jumped from the bridge and into the freezing Thames water below. She was taken to hospital.

□ This proud mum, pictured right, who has raised 11 ducklings so far, with still more on the way, made her nest in a herb box on a Kingston balcony belonging to Barbara and Trevor Harrison.

The mallard duck squeezed through the sixth-floor railings the day after her babies hatched, and called for them to follow.

Once the first duckling made the leap of faith, its mother handed it over to a male duck nearby before flying back up to the sixth floor, to encourage its siblings, all in front of the charmed couple.

□ A social housing provider issued an eviction notice to a commune of residents in a peaceful Kingston area.

The Crescent Road Community, a group of 21 adults and three children who lived in three connected houses in Crescent Road, launched a petition against the social housing provider after they were told to leave the home they had shared since 1978.

The case is due to go to court in 2016

□ The most advanced robotic hand ever made has been fitted to its first UK patient in Kingston.

Nicky Ashwell, 29, was born without a right hand and previously used a cosmetic prosthetic that she was not able to move.

Now she has been fitted with what has been described as the world's most lifelike bionic hand, that uses technology from Formula 1 cars and Swiss watches to power five motors and 14 different grip positions.

□ Sean Heiss, who strangled his mother Margaret Sheehy before fleeing to Spain where he murdered another woman, was finally jailed.

Three years after killing his mother in Kingston, Heiss was handed a life sentence and will serve a minimum of 30 years in prison.

□ It was announced that a popular Hook pub had been bought by an Isle of Man based company linked to closing a string of bars across London.

The Cap in Hand, off the Ace of Spades roundabout, was sold to Mendoza Ltd by JD Wetherspoon, which had owned it since 1998.

The pub was set to close on August 28, but it was later announced it would remain open until January 1, 2016.

□ Work on a proposed cycle track in New Malden revealed swathes of the town could disappear underwater at any time because water pipes supplying the area had "zero" life expectancy.

Thames Water's pressurised freshwater supply, contained in four major pipes, runs beneath the district and encircles the capital.

Design work for the mini-Holland New Malden to Raynes Park link revealed that two of the pipes running under the land were at risk of bursting with potentially catastrophic consequences.

□ Cut-price supermarket Lidl agreed a £10m deal with Kingston Council to bring its UK headquarters to Tolworth.

The company announced the deal would mean "new jobs for local people" but would also close the Jubilee Way Motorcycle Project.

Taking the reins: Academy headteacher Sophie Cavanagh

The motorcycle training centre was closed down after learning it would have to make way for the new 220,000sq ft office building in Jubilee Way.

August

□ Kingston's oldest nightclub announced its surprise closure.

The owners of McClusky's, in Riverside, announced they were rebranding the club as cocktail bar the Viper Rooms. It re-opened during the August bank holiday after a £500,000 refurbishment.

□ Terrorist attacks, unexploded bombs and the plight of badgers were all given as reasons to oppose a multi-million-pound cycle track between New Malden and Raynes Park.

The claims were made in a report compiled by an environmental group opposed to the second phase of Kingston's £33m mini-Holland project.

The 15-page report by retired medical professor David Allison was called "absurd" by London Cycling Campaign.

□ It was revealed that Health Secretary Jeremy Hunt was preparing to order Kingston Council to slash £650,000 from its budget for tackling obesity, teen pregnancy, smoking and other services.

The news came after control of public health, including sexual health services, substance abuse treatment and suicide prevention, was transferred to councils from the NHS in 2013.

Bad news for some: Anne and Vic Allan, who run the Jubilee Way Motorcycle Project, have been told their lease will not be renewed now Lidl is moving on to the site

September

□ People wanting to help Syrian refugees in Kingston faced blocks by "complicated and strict" Home Office rules, which barred them from staying in family homes.

The vulnerable persons relocation scheme for Syrian nationals was announced by the Home Office in March 2014 and Kingston was the first council to show support.

Council leader Kevin Davis found himself awash with offers from generous Kingstonsians but only "three or four" houses were found to be suitable because of strict Home Office rules.

□ The manager of rock band Muse almost bought one of Kingston's last remaining live music venues, it was revealed.

The Grey Horse in Richmond Road had been closed for almost a year when the world's biggest live band's manager came forward to take over the Young's brewery owned pub.

Young's brewery confirmed they had come "very close" to signing the deal, but it all fell through at the last minute.

□ After months of anticipation a planning application was submitted to demolish the long-standing North Kingston Centre to make way for the Kingston Academy.

The Richmond Road school opened its doors to 134 students as a "learning village" at the beginning of the academic year in portable cabins on the site's car park.

Kingston Educational Trust, the group behind the borough's first free secondary school funded by central Government, finally put forward its proposals for a permanent building to the council.

□ The buyer of the Tesco's Tolworth land on the old Toby Jug site was revealed by the Kingston Guardian.

European investment firm Meyer Bergman, who specialise in retail development, bought the site Tesco had been trying build on for more than a decade in September.

Residents expressed their worry that the retail investment giant would submit an application for a superstore rather than badly needed housing.

□ An attack so violent the borough commander described it as the worst he had seen "in 29 years of service" temporarily closed a new Kingston cocktail bar.

Two French nationals were attacked by seven men outside after they had allegedly all been drinking in the Viper Rooms in Kingston Riverside.

Jay Beer of, David Twigg Close, Scott Nicholls, 21, of

Violence: The Viper Rooms

Artist's impression: Could this be the future of Eden Walk?

Richmond Park Road, Nathan Peardon, 23, of School Lane and Scott Moodie, 28, from Hammersmith have all been charged with actual bodily harm.

They will appear in court Kingston Crown Court in February 2016.

□ The Home Office refused to provide evidence to show why it had branded Kingston University as a place that promoted extremism.

David Cameron's office listed the university as one of four educational establishments that had given a platform to extremists - but refused to substantiate the claims.

A No 10 spokesman would only say that the information had come from "various sources".

November

□ Plans to completely overhaul a major part of Kingston town centre were submitted to Kingston Council with a mixed-reaction from residents.

The Eden Walk planning application by the site's joint owners Universities Superannuation Scheme (USS) and British Land include demolition of the existing Eden Walk shopping centre and its redevelopment, 385 flats, shops over almost 4,000sq m, a cinema, 579 car parking spaces, office and restaurant units over 7,500sq m and a 16-storey tower block.

□ There was an outpouring of grief after teenager Lavna Chuttoo was hit by a truck and killed while walking to school.

Huge quantities of floral tributes were placed in honour of the Coombe Girls pupil, who was struck crossing Lime Grove in New Malden.

□ Kingston town centre was transformed into a Dickensian winter wonderland for the Christmas lights switch-on.

The event, which took the theme of Charles Dickens' classic A Christmas Carol, was celebrated by hundreds with Victorian street magicians, sideshows and travelling circus performers on Thursday, November 19.

Miss Sussex 2015, Lucy Kent, had the honour of pushing the button, with a little help from Kingston's mayor Councillor Roy Arora, and Santa Claus himself.

December

□ Barcadia nightclub was forced to close its doors for good and its owner ordered to pay nearly £20,000 in legal fees after a court battle to save it failed.

The final straw for the decade-old club came in April when two 17-year-old girls were let in and served alcohol at the Clarence Street bar. One used an out-of-date passport to get in. One of the girls also met a man in the bar she later accused of raping her at the Antoinette Hotel, in Beaufort Road.

□ One of the world's most famous American entertainment wrestling stars has chosen to open a first of its kind academy - in New Malden.

Al Snow, who portrays a schizophrenic brandishing a severed manikin head in the ring, has set up a wrestling school with business partner and fellow wrestler Simon Van Der Wolf.

□ The chief executive of Kingston Council resigned, and was then allocated more than a quarter of a million pounds as part of his severance package.

Bruce McDonald, who had been chief executive for 15 years, was "asked to leave" by council leader Kevin Davis according to Liberal Democrat councillors after the pair fell out.

Coun Davis denied there had been any falling out and said he couldn't go into more details due to a non-disclosure agreement.

Vibe

If there is one thing you should keep doing throughout your life, it's learn new things. Thanks to the many people Vibe has interviewed in 2015, we have picked up lots of new information – some priceless, some interesting and some plain useless. Here's our favourites:

STARSTORIES

1. Rufus Hound has no nerves: "Nobody dies. The worst thing that can happen is that you look like a tool."

2. Benedict Cumberbatch reminded us his

Black Mass co-star Johnny Depp is a one-in-a-million: "Everyone goes on about the physical transformation but there's so much going on inside. He really guns for subjects, he lives inside his characters for a long time."

3. Tom Holland taught us that just because you're Spider-Man, nothing changes when the front door closes: "When I come home I'm still Tom, I still have to do the dishes and clean my room. I'm probably the same person I was two years ago."

4. Masterchef judge Gregg Wallace answered that age-old question about whether the contestants' food goes cold before he tastes it: "You don't eat hot food. You just think you do. If it's hot, you can't eat it. How long will it take you to serve and finish a roast dinner? How long will it take you in a nice restaurant to finish a plate of food? Fifteen minutes, 20 minutes? That's not hot."

5. Starring in a movie with yourself is far from straightforward as Tom Hardy, who played both Ronnie and Reggie Kray in Legend, explained: It was more of a mental puzzle that needed to be unpacked and life breathed into it. It was kind of mathematical in a strange sort of way."

6. A Place in the Sun's Laura Hamilton gave us some tips on how to dress well for Ladies Day: "When you walk around in an outfit, your persona, the way you carry it off can actually highlight whether you are well dressed or not. It can help make an outfit stand out."

7. Rick Astley's side project The Luddites gives him an outlet: "Making records all the time there is a lot of pleasure but there is also a lot of pressure and it is just nice to turn it up to 11 and knock the s out of something. And that's what we do."

8. Alan Titchmarsh's golden rule for gardening was simple but inspired: "If you shop once a month and buy two or three things every month, you end up with a garden which always has something to look at."

9. Nigel Havers is like wine: "The second stab at (The Importance of Being Earnest) is fantastic. Like wine, you get better as you get older."

10. Amazingly, Joe Pasquale reckons he was the sensible one in the Spamalot cast: "I am the only sensible one really out of all of them, and just watch on while everyone else mucks about around me."

LETTERBOX

Call 01206 508253

Conditions of acceptance of advertisements

General

1. The following conditions apply to the placing of an order for insertion of advertisements in Newsquest Media Group ("Newsquest") printed or electronic publications. Each order will form a separate agreement and English law will apply. Any change to these conditions must be agreed by us in writing (which means by exchange of letter, fax or email). An "advertiser" means any person or organisation placing an advertisement on their own account or on behalf of another.

Contents

2. The advertiser confirms that the advertisement complies with all applicable legislation, regulations and codes of practice, including the codes supervised by the Advertising Standards Authority. We may reject or require changes to any advertisement so as to comply with legal or moral obligations placed on us or the advertiser; to avoid infringing the rights of a third party or any relevant code of practice; or to meet our published production and quality specifications.

3. The advertiser further confirms that:

- i) the publication of the advertisement will not breach any contract, infringe the copyright, trademark or other right of any third party and is not libelous of any person;
- ii) all licences and consents from third parties necessary for the publication of the advertisement have been obtained and paid for, including consent from living persons identified in copy or pictures (photographic or otherwise);
- iii) in respect of an investment advertisement, the contents have been approved by, or the advertiser is, and authorised person within the meaning of the Financial Services Act 1986 as amended or the advertisement is otherwise permitted under that Act.

Payment

4. All advertisements must be paid for in full at the time of booking unless credit has been agreed. The price shall be the amount fixed by our published rate card on the date of acceptance of the order plus VAT where applicable. For non-credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of an advertisement that has not been paid for on time. For credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of any future advertisements if payment is not made in accordance with our payment terms. For credit advertisers, interest will be charged on late payments at the rate of 3% above the Bank of England's base lending rate from the date payment is due together with the administration costs of collecting an overdue debt.

5. By placing an order with us, an advertising agency confirms that it contracts as principal with full authority from its client in all matters connected with the order and is responsible for all payments due. We will only accept advertisements from advertising agencies if they are recognised by us.

6. We will try to give notice of increases, but we reserve the right to change our advertising rates at any time. This will not affect contracts, including any fixed term agreement for a series of advertisements.

Box numbers

7. We will use reasonable efforts to forward replies to box numbers within a reasonable time, but we are not responsible for any failure or delay caused by circumstances beyond our reasonable control, or for any losses relating to an advertiser's business or any loss that is not reasonably foreseeable by both parties.

Cancellation

8. We will notify the advertiser of the latest time that orders can be cancelled (the "booking" deadline) and the latest time that advertising copy can be received by us ("the copy deadline"). An advertiser may cancel up until copy deadline and we will make reasonable efforts to re-sell the space, but the advertiser will be liable for the full price if the space is not sold and we will reclaim any unearned volume-based discount. Private advertisers booking by telephone or online may cancel in accordance with relevant law, but no refund shall be available after the copy deadline unless cancellation is due to our negligence. If the copy is not received by the copy deadline, we will not be liable if the advertisement does not appear, but the advertiser will remain liable to make full payment for the price of the advertisement.

9. We will try to satisfy an advertiser's request regarding the positioning of an advertisement, but no guarantee of position can be given unless agreed by us and paid for at the rate then current.

Errors

10. We are not liable for any error, misprint or non-appearance of an advertisement unless caused by our negligence, in which case the advertiser will be entitled to a re-insertion or proportionate refund. The advertiser is solely responsible for checking the advertisement on each insertion and ordering correction where necessary. Except where we have been negligent, we shall not be liable for an error or misprint that, in our reasonable opinion, does not materially detract from the advertisement. We shall not be liable in any case for losses relating to any business or public fund-raising for the advertiser, such as lost customers, revenue or profit.

Copyright

11. Advertisements are accepted on condition that we have the right to publish them online as well as in any booked titles. The copyright in work or material we contribute to or re-work for an advertisement belongs to us. We will dispose of advertiser's copy, artwork, photographs or other materials after six months unless collected.

General

12. We shall not be liable if our publishing activities are restricted or prevented by any law, act or event beyond our reasonable control (including, for example, industrial dispute). In such case, the advertiser shall accept publication when available or otherwise may cancel the order by written notice and pay only for work done and materials used.

13. We will use the advertiser's details for internal administration. Unless the advertiser tells us not to in writing at any time, we may also share details with other Newsquest companies or with carefully selected third parties, who may send information about goods and services.

14. The advertiser will be liable to pay us for all costs, losses, expenses and damages of any kind suffered or incurred by us as a result of legal claims or actions, actual or threatened, arising from the advertiser's breach of these conditions or the publications of the advertisement, unless caused by our own negligent act or failure.

15. We may cancel the order at any time if the advertiser breaches these conditions and the breach is not capable of remedy or it continues for seven days after we have given written notice of it, or if we reasonably believe the advertiser is unable to pay debts or the advertiser goes or threatens to go out of business.

Method of payment

We will be pleased to accept your payment by any of the following methods:

- CHEQUE - Made payable to NEWSQUEST (LONDON) LTD.
- BACS - Electronic Bank Transfer
- CASH - Paid to one of our Branch Offices.
- CREDIT/DEBIT CARD - Please phone to pay by Visa/Mastercard/Switch/Delta

Advertising Standards Authority

Nev will tell you
he hates everything mainstream.

*(he's seen all the magicians in town.
Wept every time)*

We all bend the facts now and then. But advertisers are not allowed to. If an ad isn't legal, decent, honest and truthful it mustn't run.

Conditions of acceptance of advertisements

General

1. The following conditions apply to the placing of an order for insertion of advertisements in Newsquest Media Group ("Newsquest") printed or electronic publications. Each order will form a separate agreement and English law will apply. Any change to these conditions must be agreed by us in writing (which means by exchange of letter, fax or email). An "advertiser" means any person or organisation placing an advertisement on their own account or on behalf of another.

Contents

- The advertiser confirms that the advertisement complies with all applicable legislation, regulations and codes of practice, including the codes supervised by the Advertising Standards Authority. We may reject or require changes to any advertisement so as to comply with legal or moral obligations placed on us or the advertiser; to avoid infringing the rights of a third party or any relevant code of practice; or to meet our published production and quality specifications.
- The advertiser further confirms that:
 - the publication of the advertisement will not breach any contract, infringe the copyright, trademark or other right of any third party and is not libelous of any person;
 - all licences and consents from third parties necessary for the publication of the advertisement have been obtained and paid for, including consent from living persons identified in copy or pictures (photographic or otherwise);
 - in respect of an investment advertisement, the contents have been approved by, or the advertiser is, and authorised person within the meaning of the Financial Services Act 1986 as amended or the advertisement is otherwise permitted under that Act.

Payment

- All advertisements must be paid for in full at the time of booking unless credit has been agreed. The price shall be the amount fixed by our published rate card on the date of acceptance of the order plus VAT where applicable. For non-credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of an advertisement that has not been paid for on time. For credit advertisers, we will cancel publication of any future advertisements if payment is not made in accordance with our payment terms. For credit advertisers, interest will be charged on late payments at the rate of 3% above the Bank of England's base lending rate from the date payment is due together with the administration costs of collecting an overdue debt.

- By placing an order with us, an advertising agency confirms that it contracts as principal with full authority from its client in all matters connected with the order and is responsible for all payments due. We will only accept advertisements from advertising agencies if they are recognised by us.

- We will try to give notice of increases, but we reserve the right to change our advertising rates at any time. This will not affect contracts, including any fixed term agreement for a series of advertisements.

Box numbers

- We will use reasonable efforts to forward replies to box numbers within a reasonable time, but we are not responsible for any failure or delay caused by circumstances beyond our reasonable control, or for any losses relating to an advertiser's business or any loss that is not reasonably foreseeable by both parties.

Cancellation

- We will notify the advertiser of the latest time that orders can be cancelled (the "booking" deadline) and the latest time that advertising copy can be received by us ("the copy deadline"). An advertiser may cancel up until copy deadline and we will make reasonable efforts to re-sell the space, but the advertiser will be liable for the full price if the space is not sold and we will reclaim any unearned volume-based discount. Private advertisers booking by telephone or online may cancel in accordance with relevant law, but no refund shall be available after the copy deadline unless cancellation is due to our negligence. If the copy is not received by the copy deadline, we will not be liable if the advertisement does not appear, but the advertiser will remain liable to make full payment for the price of the advertisement.

- We will try to satisfy an advertiser's request regarding the positioning of an advertisement, but no guarantee of position can be given unless agreed by us and paid for at the rate then current.

Errors

- We are not liable for any error, misprint or non-appearance of an advertisement unless caused by our negligence, in which case the advertiser will be entitled to a re-insertion or proportionate refund. The advertiser is solely responsible for checking the advertisement on each insertion and ordering correction where necessary. Except where we have been negligent, we shall not be liable for an error or misprint that, in our reasonable opinion, does not materially detract from the advertisement. We shall not be liable in any case for losses relating to any business or public fund-raising for the advertiser, such as lost customers, revenue or profit.

Copyright

- Advertisements are accepted on condition that we have the right to publish them online as well as in any booked titles. The copyright in work or material we contribute to or re-work for an advertisement belongs to us. We will dispose of advertiser's copy, artwork, photographs or other materials after six months unless collected.

General

- We shall not be liable if our publishing activities are restricted or prevented by any law, act or event beyond our reasonable control (including, for example, industrial dispute). In such case, the advertiser shall accept publication when available or otherwise may cancel the order by written notice and pay only for work done and materials used.
- We will use the advertiser's details for internal administration. Unless the advertiser tells us not to in writing at any time, we may also share details with other Newsquest companies or with carefully selected third parties, who may send information about goods and services.
- The advertiser will be liable to pay us for all costs, losses, expenses and damages of any kind suffered or incurred by us as a result of legal claims or actions, actual or threatened, arising from the advertiser's breach of these conditions or the publications of the advertisement, unless caused by our own negligent act or failure.
- We may cancel the order at any time if the advertiser breaches these conditions and the breach is not capable of remedy or it continues for seven days after we have given written notice of it, or if we reasonably believe the advertiser is unable to pay debts or the advertiser goes or threatens to go out of business.

Method of payment

We will be pleased to accept your payment by any of the following methods: • CHEQUE - Made payable to NEWSQUEST (LONDON) LTD. • BACS - Electronic Bank Transfer • CASH - Paid to one of our Branch Offices. • CREDIT/DEBIT CARD - Please phone to pay by Visa/Mastercard/Switch/Delta

April: It was some month for glory – Wimbledon Rugby Club's Campbell Tait celebrates winning the London Division One South title, above; Surbiton's Abi Robinson, right, celebrates a goal en route to a second league and cup double, and, far right, Ben Marsden guided Wimbledon Hockey Club to their first Men's Hockey League Premier Division title

June: As temperatures soared, Laura Robson's, below, return to the All England Tennis Club in Wimbledon ended abruptly after a first round straight sets defeat to Evgeniya Rodina of Russia

November/December: There was excitement on the pitch when Sutton Common Rovers reached the last 32 of the FA Vase, thanks in no small part to the goals of Francois Gabbidon, left, and there was excitement off the pitch for AFC Wimbledon, who will be returning to Merton after almost a quarter of a century

Putting in the ground work

If ever there was a year that was all about whetting the appetite for what is to come, then 2015 was that year, writes Tim Ashton.

The biggest story was undoubtedly AFC Wimbledon finally getting the go ahead from the council to build a new stadium in Merton.

It meant the Dons could return to their spiritual home, to use one of chief executive Erik Samuelson's phrases, after 24 years in exile.

While life on the pitch has not been as exciting, with the Dons in mid-table, the anticipation of running out at the new stadium in 2018 can more than make up for it.

In the more immediate future, Sutton Common Rovers could find themselves in the last 16 of the FA Vase, if they make it four wins in the competition on January 9.

Sutton United are also flying high in the play-offs of the National League South table, with boss Paul Doswell insisting he has his best ever squad at Gander Green Lane.

In the boxing ring, Charlie Edwards became an English champion and then defended his title after only six pro fights, next year he is looking to take a bigger step towards a European crown.

But there were disappointments too when Laura Robson's return to Wimbledon ended at the first hurdle, and England's rugby team became the first host nation not to make it out of the group stages in a World Cup.

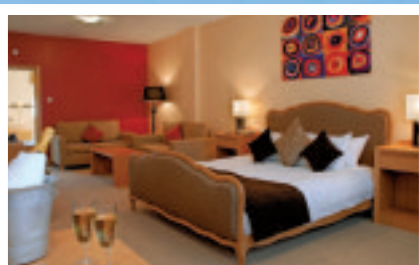

March: AFC Wimbledon Ladies' development team, above, were crowned Division One champions of the Greater London Women's Football League. They have taken the Premier Division by storm, sitting top of the table as the Christmas break loomed

May: Battersea Ironsides' domination of rugby at regional level, including promotion to London Division Three South West, extended nationwide when they beat Northallerton at Twickenham to clinch the National Junior Vase. Colin O'Keeffe, below, stepped down as skipper in the summer to be replaced by Marcus Bailey
